Dear Parents/Carers

Social Media – Twitter and Facebook

Our Twitter and Facebook pages are closed so followers have to be approved to join. The pages are aimed at current parents, although there are also followers from within the early years profession when we can identify them. We have recently carried out a Twitter audit of users and removed some followers who were either previous parents or unidentifiable users. I have recently requested current parents to let us know of your Twitter identifier so that I didn't mistakenly remove you. If you have been removed and would like to rejoin, simply make a join request and email me to let me know.

Our Twitter page can be found at @LangaStNursery – simply request to follow us and your request will be approved once we can identify you.

The easiest way for us to identify you is to email headteacher@langastreet-nursery.glasgow.sch.uk and state that you have requested to follow us and ask to be approved, saying what your twitter name is (i.e. @xxxxx etc)

- I would also like to remind/request for parents not to share our tweets or facebook pages on your own social media, respecting the privacy requests of other families.
- We are always happy to discuss any questions that you have – questions made on social media are usually better made directly to the nursery.
- Please don't use staff or other nursery children's names on your own social media respecting the privacy of staff and other families.

If you have any questions at all, or wish to change your preference for sharing your child's photos on Twitter or Facebook, please get in touch

Yours sincerely,

Steve Rivers
